TAKE IT OUTSIDE

Eating and drinking alfresco much like wine-and-cheese or PB&J, certain things just go together—and food + fresh air are one of those perfect pairings. Not surprisingly, Cleveland—a city long known for its culinary cred—has no shortage of places to enjoy some al fresco fun (from beer gardens to rooftops to waterside spots to hidden patios). Kick off this glorious season with our in-depth guide to outdoor dining, CLE-style.

BEER GARDEN BLITZ

By Annie Zaleski

In 19th century Germany, beer gardens became popular places for imbibers to beat the heat and enjoy frosty brews during warmer months. Cleveland's drinking destinations preserve the convivial spirit of these locales—each with their own unique twist.

Hofbrauhaus Cleveland in Downtown boasts a particularly authentic 1,000-seat "biergarten" with picnic tables and an outdoor stand offering Munich-modeled beers based on the Duke of Bavaria's original recipes. (Start with the refreshing Lager or Hefe Weizen.) Over at Ohio City's Market Garden Brewery, the beer garden is a tree-spruced brick enclave overlooking the West Side Market—providing the ideal perch for sipping brews such as the crisp Citramax IPA.

Two newer Ohio City breweries—Platform Beer Co. and Hansa Brewery—also offer cozy outdoor spaces. The former feels like a rustic clubhouse, thanks to sturdy, wood-slat walls and picnic tables, while the latter's tidy, patio-like garden hugs bustling Lorain Avenue. And nearby at Great Lakes Brewing Co., the party continues year-round in its beer garden. A retractable canvas roof reveals blue skies and brews on sunny days, while the fireplace and radiant heat floor keep patrons toasty on chillier nights—making it all too easy to sample the Ohio City anchor's ever-rotating beer menu in the great outdoors.

Elevated Libations

High-rise sipping has become something of a sport in Cleveland, thanks to a growing number of rooftop options. Here are a few of our favorite bars above the rafters:

Red, the Steakhouse

This elegant lounge might feel more like a private club, but the roar of the crowd at Progressive Field gives it away. Depending on where you stand, you'll be facing The Q, the ballpark, or downtown office buildings—noshing on small plates and enjoying the restaurant's signature Cucumber-Basil Cocktail. Light and summery, this sipping staple combines cucumber-infused vodka, basil, lemon juice, and a splash of simple syrup.

Bar 32

As the saying goes, it's all about "location, location, location," and Bar 32 has it in spades. You couldn't pick a better spot for a rooftop watering hole—32 floors up the Hilton and connected to the Convention Center, offering sweeping views of Cleveland's crown jewel: Lake Erie. Try the Topfloor Lemonade, a Ketel One vodka lemonade with a cucumber garnish. The cocktail is potent yet straightforward (so it doesn't compete with the magnificent panorama).

Azure Rooftop Lounge

This lofty setting provides some of the best seats in town for celebratory fireworks after the #Windians do their thing. So forget margaritas and upgrade your tequila options with the Heat Wave (Peligroso Silver tequila with watermelon juice, agave nectar, lime juice and cayenne pepper). With a drink this exciting, you might just forget about the game.

Eat STREET

By Annie Zaleski

When warm (or, let's face it, even warm-adjacent) weather strikes, Clevelanders head outdoors—driving up demand for restaurants with al fresco options. Luckily, The Land has plenty to offer in that regard, and there's no better place than its sidewalk patios to watch the streets come alive.

For those who work or play Downtown, Playhouse Square's U.S. Bank Plaza is a lunchtime must. This bustling outdoor space provides seating for Zack Bruell's Dynamite Burgers, a cozy snack shack offering no-frills dishes like its namesake burger (topped with jalapeño, pepper jack cheese, and spicy mayo). Head up the street toward the Gateway District, and you'll encounter the lush urban green space of Public Square—home of vegan paradise Pura Vida and equally health-conscious Rebol.

Of course, no outdoor dining list is complete without East 4th Street, a veritable patio-hopping and people-watching paradise. (Bonus: it's pedestrian-only!) Meat lovers will gravitate to Butcher and the Brewer and Mabel's BBQ. Nosh on housemade charcuterie at the former, or half-slabs of tender ribs at the latter. The "dinner and a show" set can choose from hearty American fare at Pickwick & Frolic—which houses comedy spot Hilarities—or Southern-inspired comforts at House of Blues. For a fancier al fresco experience, the sleek Italian restaurant Chinato and Michael Symon's trendsetter Lola are ideal. Rounding out the choices: award-winning The Greenhouse Tavern—try its legendary frites—or Vietnamese fare at Saigon Restaurant & Bar.

Luckily, East Side patios also cater to discerning palates. Little Italy's quaint, European-style Mayfield Road plays home to a trio of Italian restaurants: La Dolce Vita, Tavern of Little Italy, and Mia Bella Restaurant. On nearby Murray Hill, the majestic Washington Place Bistro & Inn offers a popular brunch and inventive fare. And in Shaker Square, fire food and drink dishes up local, sustainable selections (like New Creation Farm Chicken) and a mighty craft cocktail list.

Dining WATERSIDE

By Sharon Holbrook

Headed Downtown? Hit the wraparound two-level deck at North Coast Harbor's Nuevo Modern Mexican & Tequila Bar, where diners can drink in the skyline and Lake Erie sunset views alongside a margarita flight or Nuevo's own Perro Nuevo black lager. Guac lovers can also feast on funky flavors like Habanero Jelly or Grilled Pineapple, Bacon & Aji Amarillo.

Over in the industrial-cool Flats, everything is served with a side of the edgy artistry of the Cuyahoga's mighty bridges. At Zack Bruell's Collision Bend Brewing Company, street food-inspired fare and house-brewed beer collide on the river's east bank. Try the just-tapped High Rent Lemon Girl, a cool witbier to pair with a burger on a hot summer day on the deck.

Next to the towering Main Avenue bridge sits Coastal Taco, anchored by its party-ready waterfront patio. Pair your tacos and cervezas with big chairs, giant Jenga, and cornhole. At nearby Alley Cat Oyster Bar, chill on the patio for unbeatable lake and river views. (Seriously, you're practically in the water.) While fresh oysters are the standout, count on all of the seafood to be on point—specifically the like-buttah Maine lobster roll. Also, check out Music Box Supper Club, where food-and-drink events (like rooftop whiskey tastings) share the marquee with the live music lineup.

© Janey Schafer

At Merwin's Wharf, step into the Cuyahoga's quieter stretch—where urban ends and green begins. Settle in by the patio's fire pits and sink your teeth into the famed giant pretzel, served with housemade mustard and beer cheese fondue. For perfection, pair with your pick of local draft beers.

Miles south of the city at LockKeepers, riverside dining goes upscale. Match the classy waterfront vibe with the impressive Seafood Fra Diavolo at this restaurant just across from Cuyahoga Valley National Park.

CLOCKWISE: Nuevo Mod Mex, Coastal Taco, Alley Cat Oyster Bar

Patio DIGS

AND PROSPERITY FOR ALL

Vintage flair extends beyond the 1930s-era barroom at Tremont's Prosperity Social Club, where the patio is punctuated with colorful lounge chairs and picnic tables. Cleveland's late summer sunsets provide the perfect backdrop for extended day drinking, while Eastern European eats—like potato pierogies and sausage sandwiches—are served into the wee hours for that necessary post-buzz binge.

HOUSE OF BREWS

Take in a Tribe game at Tremont TapHouse, where the patio's projection screen is rivaled only by the enormous roster of 100+ hand-crafted brews. (The bar's name is no misnomer, since more than 50 of these are on draft.) Get your gastropub on with globally-inspired delights like Bánh mì, duck poutine, and chorizo tacos.

THAT'S AMORE

Situated in Ohio City, the upscale Johnny's Bar has been refining its classic interpretations of Northern Italian cuisine since the 1920s—from homemade gnocchi to Alaskan halibut piccata to housemade charcuterie. Fulton Road traffic fades away inside the intimate, grotto-like courtyard, where wrought-iron tables topped with red umbrellas are flanked by intricately carved stone walls.

NIGHT MOVES

At Nighttown, occasional downpours needn't dampen your patio plans. Two of the restaurant's three outdoor dining areas operate year-round with ambient heating and retractable walls. Seasonal ingredients and house-cured meats round out an eclectic menu of modern American meals available lunch through late night. Lawyer up with the popular Dublin Lawyer, a fresh lobster dish sautéed in mild cayenne butter cream sauce, mushrooms, scallions, and Irish whiskey.

L'AL FRESCO

The foliage-lined brick patio at Zack Bruell's L'Albatros acts as a chic locale for sipping champagne, devouring oysters on the half-shell, and nibbling the city's favorite fromage selection featuring dozens of different artisanal cheeses. Located in the heart of University Circle, this date-night destination pairs perfectly with museum-hopping.

YOU'LL FALL FOR THIS

Crave-worthy staples like truffled deviled eggs and S'mores-inspired flourless chocolate cake are best savored outdoors at Jekyll's Kitchen in ever-adorable Chagrin Falls. You won't have to go chasing waterfalls here—as the scenic views are plentiful whether dining at a table or sipping cocktails while perched atop plush seating around the cabana and bar.

BRUNCH IN THE CITY

Fuel up with diner staples and decadent spreads in Downtown's breakfast scene

By Tricia L. Chaves

SOME LIKE IT HOT

If staying connected while chowing is a priority, HotSpot Cafe is your best bet in Downtown's Gateway District. Juggle the gyro-filled HotSpot Burrito in one hand and your mobile device in the other while getting charged up on free Wi-Fi, tableside power stations, and bottomless coffee. Make it a mEATing: Adjacent parking is free, along with a private room that can accommodate up to 16 hungry guests.

AND FOR ITS NEXT ACT

Local franchise fave Yours Truly has opened its latest location in the historic Halle Building, offering mezzanine, lobby, and outdoor dining in the heart of Downtown's Playhouse Square. The "Anytime Breakfast" menu includes Eggs Bruschetta—putting a yolk-y spin on the popular Italian appetizer with a pair of eggs fried over easy.

Fancy a boozy brunch? Look no further: a full bar menu features mimosas, martinis, and everything in between.

FEEL THE BURN

The moniker for The Burnham (located inside Hilton Cleveland Downtown) is a nod to famed architect Daniel Burnham, and the name proves a fitting one with sweeping terrace views of the Cleveland Mall and surrounding skyscrapers. Chef Zack Bruell's menu will lead you on a tasting tour of American cuisine from Hawaiian islands to the Big Easy—not to mention locally-inspired highlights like Amish yogurt parfait and CLE Eggs Benedict with housemade pastrami.

PARTY HEARTY

Culinary-minded carnivores rave about the charcuterie program at Urban Farmer Cleveland, where your morning protein fix awaits. Housemade thick-cut bacon, seasonal smoked fish, and chicken cherry sausage are just a few of the breakfast menu's satisfying selections. Craving carbs? Go for the gusto with brioche French toast and splurge for a side of local Bissell Farm bourbon barrel-aged maple syrup.

TOP CHEF

At Parker's Downtown, executive chef Andrew Gorski delivers a progressive American menu daily inside the Kimpton Schofield Hotel. Though breakfast selections appear to be approachable standards, diners can expect elevated presentation with skills Gorski refined inside award-winning Las Vegas kitchens like David Burke at the Venetian, Thomas Keller's Bouchon, and MIX Alain Ducasse.

DINING GUIDE

RIGHT: Butcher and the Brewer

IPA. USA

In Cleveland, if you're not making – or drinking – a killer IPA, you're doing it wrong.

Hop in the way-back machine to the late 19th century, and you'll learn that Cleveland was once one of America's biggest beer towns. More than 100 years later, our city is again emerging as a vital stop on any beer tourist's bucket list—thanks to nearly 200 craft breweries and an even longer list of brewpubs. Our list of must-try brews that go beyond just yeast, barley, and hops:

SPEED MERCHANT

This white IPA from Cleveland brewing newbie Platform Beer Co. in Ohio City has swiftly become a favorite for hop heads across the city. Its golden, hazy hue, citrus nose, and pine-y finish makes Speed Merchant an ideal summer beer that can be enjoyed year-round.

COMMODORE PERRY

The two things we know for sure: Clevelanders love their IPAs, and Ohio City's Great Lakes Brewing Company's Commodore Perry is the one that started it all. More than 25 years later, the beer remains a best-selling mainstay on taps across the city.

CITRAMAX

Like your IPAs more intense? Market Garden Brewery's Citramax is your jam. The flavorful West Coast-style IPA is a favorite at Market Garden's restaurant and brew house in the heart of Ohio City's brewery district.

HEAD HUNTER

The Fat Head's Brewery bunch wasn't kidding when they dubbed this one a "punch-you-in-the-mouth" IPA—and neither was Draft Magazine when it named Head Hunter IPA one of the top 25 beers in America. Visit their brewpub in North Olmsted or tap house in Middleburg Heights.

STOP HOP KABOOM

Stop in the name of hops! This explosive, hoppy IPA is the brainchild of the team at Downtown's Butcher and the Brewer (which offers an equally addictive food menu).

WHITE RAJAH

This citrus-forward brew snagged the top spot in the IPA category of Paste's national blind taste test. And while it may be made West Coast-style, this beer is straight outta Strongsville—Brew Kettle Brewery, to be exact.

Indulge in Cleveland's signature cocktails

By Sharon Holbrook

VELVET UNDERGROUND

VTR—as the cool kids call it—doesn't need to show off. Velvet Tango Room knows it's a mecca for world-class cocktails, so it announces itself with only a tiny neon sign in the window of its unremarkable-looking Tremont brick home. Inside, it's a whole other swanky story with live jazz and lounge-y swagger. Cocktail lovers won't go wrong with any of the vintage recipes—especially VTR's famed India Lime Fizz (featured on the Food Channel's "Best Thing I Ever Drank").

POLYNESIAN PANACHE

When it's time for a tropical vacay, but the wallet says "nope," escape to Tremont's Porco Lounge & Tiki Room instead. The island game is strong here, with lanterns and kitsch lending the lush feel of a tropical night. If you're ready to get your rum on, the raft of authentic tiki drinks—like the classic coconut, pineapple, and orange Painkiller—won't disappoint. Plus, this place set the record for "World's Largest Daiquiri" in 2016. Need we say more?

HIGH SOCIETY

Oh, so you fancy yourself an elegant, sexy drinker? You know you do. (Litmus test: you use the word "mixology" at least twice a week.) Go upscale in this East 4th basement speakeasy, a throwback to sleeker times when bars weren't pubs full of baseball caps. At Society Lounge, the best cap is a classy pre-Prohibition era nightcap: the knockout Sazerac, featuring Bulleit Rye, simple syrup, bitters, and absinthe.

WORLD OF WONDER

What, your squad is prowling downtown and you're not all on the same drink page? You need a place that serves it all, aka Wonder Bar. Satisfy the craft beer junkies in your group at this East 4th hangout, while you sip something a bit more sophisticated. Go with a locally-inspired libation like the Cleveland Ginger, made with Cleveland 87 rye whiskey, housemade blueberry bitters, and Fever Tree ginger ale.

CLEVELAND. UNCORKED

It's always wine-o-clock somewhere in The Land

By Jen Jones Donatelli & Jason Q. Freed

GERVASI VINEYARD

A taste of Italy awaits at this Tuscan-inspired winery in Canton. Take your pick of two dining destinations at this sprawling site: The Bistro (formal) and The Crush House (casual). At the former, savor dishes like Italian Chicken Napoleon; at the latter, dine on the balcony for a prime view of the South Vineyard—where Aromella and Marquette grapes grow. Still thirsty? Sidle up to the tasting bar to sample 15 Gervasi varietals, or take a winery tour to learn the method behind the magic.

FERRANTE WINERY

World-class wines flow at the family-owned Ferrante Winery in Geneva, located in the fertile Grand River Valley. Grab a bottle and a bite on the rustic, pond-view terrace, overlooking fields of grapes producing award-winning Chardonnays, Rieslings, and blush wines. Do you have a sweet tooth? Try Ferrante's famed ice wines.

CLE URBAN WINERY

Hometown pride is in full force at this boutique winery, where all of the hand-crafted wines are CLE-themed. Sip on "Cedar-Lee Chardonnay" or "Rust Belt Rose" in the industrial-chic tasting bar, which was converted from a former garage. Would-be winemakers can also get in on the action by making their own custom-labeled wine batch. Pop-up culinary events, live music shows, and board games round out the fun at this Cleveland Heights wine hub.

VINTAGE OHIO

This annual wine fest is going 18 years strong and counting! Held at Lake Metroparks Farmpark in Kirtland, Vintage Ohio attracts wine lovers near and far for a fun-filled weekend. More than 10 wineries are on board for the event, which will take place August 4-5, 2017. Take a cooking class with Lisa Delgado, do a buzzed shopping stroll through the gourmet food and craft vendors, or enjoy live music with some vino in hand.

Food fests serve up a taste of Cleveland

By Denise Koeth and Jen Jones Donatelli

NIGHT MARKET CLEVELAND

When the sun goes away, let your taste buds come out to play at this festive Asian-inspired fete, June 30, July 28, Aug. 25 & Sept. 29. Aptly described as "farmers' market meets makers' market meets food festival," Night Market CLE's diverse array of 200+ vendors comprise one of Cleveland's most colorful and creative events.

TASTE OF TREMONT

Make the short trek to trendy Tremont for a satisfying smorgasbord of shopping, brews, and bites. (Oh, hi, Cleveland's top chefs!) Each vendor at the July 16 event must have a direct affiliation with Tremont, so a stamp of local legitimacy is guaranteed.

FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION

Pasta, pizza, gelato, sausages, and other Italian delicacies are what's on the menu at Feast of the Assumption, held August 12-15 in Cleveland's Little Italy. People of all faiths pack the quaint street surrounding Holy Rosary Church to fill up on authentic Italian fare and enjoy ethnic music. Mangia!

GREAT LAKES BURNING RIVER FEST

Bands + brews = one awesome combo. See for yourself at Great Lakes Burning River Fest on August 18-19 at Whiskey Island's Historic Coast Guard Station. Jam to headliners Wesley Bright and the Honeytones and Robert DeLong, or don some headphones and dance the night away at the Silent Disco.

CLEVELAND GARLIC FESTIVAL

Follow your nose to the seventh annual Cleveland Garlic Festival, set to showcase Ohio garlic's unique qualities on August 26-27. Revelers can watch cooking demos, enjoy live music, say "fromage" in the new Ohio Cheese Guild tent, and sample garlic-themed food from oysters to ice cream.

LABOR DAY OKTOBERFEST

Oh, it's just the largest outdoor event in Cleveland—no big deal. Don your dirndls and get ready for this four-day bier-stravaganza at the Cuyahoga County Fairgrounds, where dancing, drinking, and ethnic eats make for one lively Labor Day weekend.

FABULOUS FOOD SHOW

The planning process is in full swing for the next installment of the Fabulous Food Show, slated to take place November 2018 at the I-X Center. If past shows are any indication, the event will be worth the wait with top chefs, tastings, and more.
